Dayton, Ohio, October 6, 1977-- Rick E. Carter, of 2161 Greenspring Dr., Kettering, has been named head football coach at the University of Dayton. He is president of the NAIA Football Coaches Association, and he was involved in the first American football game played in Europe during the summer of 1976.

Carter was educated at Earlham College, earning an A.B. degree in Physical Education, and at Miami University where he earned a master of education degree in the same area. He was head football coach and has taught at both Earlham College and at Hanover College before coming to UD.

Carter is married to the former Deanna Slack and has two children. He is a native of Dayton.
